35 Eccles St Dublin

14 April 1847

My dear Mrs Chapman

I thank you for your note, & your kind remembrance of me in the shape of a copy of the last Liberty Bell, which I have not yet been able to look over. Indeed my study table is always well filled with arrear of work of that kind. I can never find time to keep ahead of my work. It gave me much

Ms.A.9.2.23.20

pleasure to find your last Bazaar was so successful, may it serve a good omen of your operations for the ensuing year, and battling the cause of the American slave with some of our politicians, to day, touching the receipt of Slaveholders money One of them who had lived in your country, I was well convinced of the withering effect of slavery on all your institutions, & fully satisfied that it will yet overthrow the Union, if the Union do not overthrow it.

was sent still, in favor of the measures of Ultra Abolitionists.
He would not like to be a slave for an hour himself, yet he could not see how violent agitation could do the work. This man is one of our most virulent Repealers.
He & many like him who would toil for Ireland, & fight for Ireland, have no sympathy to spare for the down oppressed Negro.
I tell them that, with much feeling, it is in vain they labor for the regeneration of their own country.
It is not for freedom they fight.

but against England. So it was that America fought, not for freedom, but against England.
The Unitarian Clergy seem to be "tarred with the same stick" as all the rest of the black-coated, white cravated gent-Nearly all of them are "blind leaders of the blind", & so the world is in darkness, in regato the principles of truth & justi-If Hope were not strongly dev-loped in our Creatures, we sh strive to exert ourselves, unc

Ms.A.9.2.23.20

never told on against the title we have to struggle with.

He conducted you meetings in the heart of our pro-slavery Edition is exceedingly dishonorable.
The Inquirer is true to the cause of emancipation. About the Editor another letter lately, if he publish it, I will send you a copy in his Paper. I do not know who Americus is, he is a fair example of your Pro-slavery genus anti-slavery! "Judge by their dawn of emancipation

Mss 23,220

23,19 would be long a coming -

None of my family know who the author of the pieces you allude to is, so that if you published it, it must be "From Ireland, name unknown" -

You correspond so regularly with R. D. Webb that you must be well acquainted with all that passes of any moment, among us - We keep up a steady agitation on several matters of Reform - Freedom - Peace Temperance - Anti Capital Punishment &c &c

The Temperance movement is rather flourishing amongst our poor. We have little drunkenness in our streets, & our meetings in support of the cause are steadily kept up -

I send you Newspapers now & then to let you see what we are doing. We have a good deal of political action kept up for Repeal of the Union between us & England. You will see by the Papers that our great O'Connell, is great no longer. We have no certain account of the state of his mind or body, but I apprehend his mind is broken down, & that this sad result is caused in great measure by the failing that he has lost the confidence of his country, in consequence of his late errors (errors to use the mildest term) as a politician.

His fate is striking evidence of the folly of a disingenuous course of action

Mr. O'Connell 20

Mr Webb sends off a parcel to Liverpool tomorrow, to meet Mr Douglass, who sails by next Packet. Thope he will reach home in safety, & that he will not find the difference between English hospitality & American wickedness, because of his complexion, too great for him to bear with equanimity. He is a fine manly fellow, but, like perhaps the most of us, somewhat impatient of reproof.

Ms. A. 9. 2. 23. 20
23, B

H C Wright is now in Dublin, & has quite regained his health.
We love Henry. He is to accompany me next week to a town about 30 miles off to deliver a lecture on Slavery & War.
I enclose you a note from my daughter Sarah, she does not expect to obtain many contributions for your next Bazaar. Misery is so abroad ing in Ireland at present, that we hardly know how to feel joyful, or glad, or in earnest, that any work we may have in hand. But any a new favor granting relief to all who are destitute, will be very dear in operation, I hope all who are in want, will be fed, & that we need no longer be reminded on the word. A fear the large gifts from your side will drain all the efforts of tribute Slaves advocates for many a day.

Gratitude for favors conferred

I will make an Account in relation to the wages of the Slave.

Farewell, may better days soon return unto you.

Believe me your sincere friend

James Boyd

Ms-A.9.2,23,20

P. S. 4

D Webb is printing for me a small pamphlet in reply to one addressed to me lately.
I sent him to say. He told me he thought he could have a dozen copies ready to send with my American letters per S. Douglass. If he send them, will you accept the charge for yourself. & give me credit to Mr Garrison
" Phillips
Rev Saml May

23,C

James & Lucretia Mott

Do for S. Pugh & A Kimber.

Mr F & K Douglass

" C L Remond

" Amasa Walker

" Geo Bradburn

Some of these you may not be able to deliver, & wish you not to take any particular trouble about them, but just if it be convenient, to give or send them to the parties as a token of my remembrance

Indeed I do not know whether Richard will have them ready to send, I just mention them in case

James Houghton

1847.

Ms. A. 9. 2, 23, 20